Introduction to the Freedom of Information Act, 1997

The Freedom of Information Act, 1997 (referred to hereafter as the Act) establishes three new statutory rights:

- A legal right for each person to access information held by public bodies;
- A legal right for each person to have official information relating to him/herself amended where it is incomplete, incorrect or misleading;
- A legal right to obtain reasons for decisions affecting oneself.

The Act asserts the right of members of the public to obtain access to official information to the greatest extent possible consistent with the public interest and the right to privacy of individuals.

This manual is prepared in accordance with publication requirements set out in section 15 of the Act.

The effective date for compliance with the Freedom of Information Act, 1997 for Sligo Education Centre is May 31st 2006.

Sligo Education Centre and the Freedom of Information Act

Routinely Available Information

The Centre routinely makes information available to the public in relation to its functions and activities. Such information will continue to be available informally without the need to use the FOI Act. This manual highlights, in relation to each Centre activity, where information of this nature is available.

The FOI Act is designed to allow public access to information held by public bodies that is NOT routinely available through other sources. Access to information under the Act is subject to certain exemptions and involves specific procedures and time limits. This manual provides a guide to the structure of the Centre to help you access information under the FOI Act.

The Centre is committed to providing information to the greatest extent possible in a manner consistent with the public interest while preserving the right to privacy of individuals.

Section 15 Manual

This manual has been prepared and published in accordance with the requirements of Section 15 of the Freedom of Information Act, 1997. Its purpose is to facilitate your access to information held by Sligo Education Centre.

The Manual is a reference book to:

- The Management Structure of the Centre
- The Functions of the Centre
- The Records held by the Centre
- The Public Services provided by the Centre
- The arrangements for availing of services, accessing and amending records under the Freedom of Information Act
- The arrangements for appeal and review under the Freedom of Information Act

Section 16 Manual

Section 16 of the Freedom of Information Act requires the publication of information regarding the rules, procedures and guidelines used by the Centre. This information is presented in the second part of this publication.

1. Background and Functions of Sligo Education Centre.

Sligo Education Centre was established in 1972 and was officially opened in purpose built accommodation in the grounds of St. Patrick's College in April 1973. In 1999, the Centre moved to its current location, an up-to-date building and facilities, on a site donated by St. Patrick's College. The Centre is now one of the busiest in the national network catering for approximately 300 school communities and 5000 teachers.

The essential core business of the Centre to-date has been the professional development of local teachers. However, the Centre views CPD not simply as an 'add-on' or a 'quick fix' to be applied when a particular problem arises (OECD, 1998). As teachers seek to equip and motivate their pupils to be lifelong learners they need to exemplify lifelong learning characteristics in their own behaviour and attitudes (Coolahan, 2002). Fullan (1993) commented that a high quality teaching force - always learning - is the sine qua non of coping with dynamic complexity.

Since its inception, the work and role of the Centre has continued to expand and evolve to meet the needs of its education community. The Centre has been consistently proactive in expanding its programmes with a view to addressing teacher professional development. It was the first Education Centre to initiate local School Development Planning and School Leadership / Administration programmes for schools and teachers and will continue to develop and adjust its services in light of ongoing changing needs.

The Centre currently provides an innovative and wide range of services to its education community:

- ❖ In-house and school-based national and local courses/programmes
- ❖ Initiatives to meet the needs of school Boards, administrative staffs and parents
- ❖ A comprehensive range of ICT training and educational software
- ❖ Accessibility for meetings, seminars, conferences, workshops

- ❖ Centre Website and on-line communication network
- ❖ Video/Resource Library
- ❖ Photocopying, Laminating & Binding services
- ❖ Local delivery of National Programmes
- ❖ The hosting of Teacher Professional Networks (TPN's), Teacher Professional Communities (TPC's), Subject Associations, Principals Groups and Parent Associations
- ❖ Collaborative partnerships with other Education and Professional Development Agencies.

2. Mission.

The Centre's core mission is :

'To empower the school community, to enhance learning in and for a changing world'.

Sligo Education Centre will accomplish this mission by working with its education partners: DES, Local Education Community, National and International Education Agencies to:

- ❖ Develop an innovative and flexible approach to meeting local education needs
- ❖ Assist schools in embracing ongoing change
- ❖ Generate and disseminate 'best education practice'
- ❖ Engender a commitment to ongoing professional development and life-long learning

Public Information Provided by Sligo Education Centre.

SEC routinely provides the following information about its functions and services:

- Information about the Centre, its facilities, resources and programmes is published on its website, in newsletters, and brochures. This information may be obtained by contacting the Administrator's Office at the Centre's main address and need not be requested under the Freedom of Information Act.

Arrangements for availing of services, accessing and amending records under the Freedom of Information Act

Information available under the FOI Act

Under the Freedom of Information Act, anyone is entitled to seek access to information from SEC, which is not otherwise publicly available.

Each person has a right of:

- Access to records held by the Centre
- Correction of personal information relating to oneself held by the Centre where it is inaccurate, incomplete or misleading.
- Access to reasons for decisions made by the Centre affecting oneself.

The following records come within the scope of the Act:

- All records relating to personal information held by the Centre irrespective of when created
- All other records created from commencement date - 21 April 1998
- Any other records necessary to the understanding of a current record
- Personnel records of serving staff created from 21st April 1995 and those created prior to that date where being used or proposed to be used in a way, which adversely affects or may affect the person involved.

Please note that the Freedom of Information Act does not cover the following information

- Information already available upon request from the Centre
- Non-personal information created before the commencement date of 21 April 1998
- Personal information relating to a third party (with some exceptions)

Some information may not automatically be released upon application under the Act. The key exemptions include records relating to the deliberative process, records relating to the performance of certain investigative functions and negotiations, and the disclosure to third parties of personal information, commercially sensitive information or information obtained in confidence. Most of the exemptions are not absolute. In several cases information may be withheld only if it can be demonstrated that a specific harm or injury would arise from disclosure. Many are subject to an overall test of whether disclosure would be in the public interest.

The Act applies to all record types, as defined in Section 2 of the Act, be they textual, such as files, or non-textual, such as photographs, films or recordings. They can be recorded or stored in any format, manual, mechanical or electronic. The Act also covers drafts, parts and copies of records.

Application Procedure

Applications must be in writing and must indicate that the information is sought under the Freedom of Information Act. If information is desired in a particular form i.e. photocopy, transcript, computer disk, etc. this should also be mentioned in the application. Please give as much detail as possible to enable the FOI Officer to identify the record. If you have difficulty in identifying the precise records that you require, the FOI Officer will be happy to assist you in preparing your request.

Fees may be charged for the processing of requests:

In relation to personal records, fees in respect of the cost of copying the records requests will not apply, save where a large number of records are involved

In respect of other (non-personal) information, fees may be charged in respect of the time spent in efficiently locating and copying records (currently €20.95 per hour and 3c per copy). No charges may apply in respect of the time spent by public bodies in considering requests. These fees are in accordance with guidelines established by the Department of Finance.

Applications for information under the Freedom of Information Act should be addressed to:

Freedom of Information Officer,
Sligo Education Centre,
Ballinode
Sligo
Tel: 071 91389700
Fax: 071 9138767
E-Mail: info@ecsligo.ie
www.ecsligo.ie

How Freedom of Information Applications are Dealt With.

The Act establishes strict time limits for the processing of a request:

- Applicants should receive an acknowledgement of a request within two weeks from the date the request is received
- They should receive a reply to a request within four weeks from the date the request is received. However, it may be necessary to extend this period for up to four more weeks if:
  - A request relates to a very large number of records, or a large number or requests for the same record(s) have been made.
  - If the period is extended, applicants will receive notice of this before the end of the initial four-week period, and the reasons for the delay will be given.

If SEC considers that a request should have been sent to another public body, e.g. Department of Education & Science, the request shall be forwarded to that body, and the applicant will receive notification of this event. This must be done not later than two weeks from receipt of a request. The request will then be treated as though it had been sent to the second public body on the date on which it was forwarded by SEC.

If SEC holds some but not all of the records requested, then a letter will be sent to the applicant informing of this and supplying the name(s) and contact details of the other bodies from whom to request those records not held by SEC.

If a request is granted.

The applicant will:

- receive a letter stating that your request has been granted
- will be told the name of the person dealing with your request
- will be told the day on which access to the relevant records will be granted and the manner in which it will be granted
- will be given details of the fee, if applicable

If a request is refused.

The applicant will:

- will receive a letter stating that the request has been refused and will be given the reasons for the refusal
- will be informed of their rights of review and appeal, as set out below.

Arrangements for Appeal and Review

The Freedom of Information Act specifies exemptions to protect third-party interests and key interests of the State. A decision by a public body to deny access to information with reference to such exemptions may be appealed. Appeals may also be made in relation to procedural matters such as breach of time limit, excessive charges, unsatisfactory form of access etc.

Internal Review

You may seek internal review of the initial decision made by the Freedom of Information Officer, if you are dissatisfied with the initial response, or if you have not received a reply within four weeks of your initial application.

Requests for internal review should be submitted in writing to :

Director,
Sligo Education Centre,
Ballinode
Sligo

Tel: 071 9138700

Fax: 071 9138767

Email: info@ecsligo.ie

www.ecsligo.ie

Such a request for internal review must be submitted within four weeks of the initial decision. Sligo Education Centre must complete the review within three weeks. An internal review must be completed before an appeal may be made to the Information Officer.

Review by the Information Commissioner

Following completion of the internal review, if the request continues to be refused in part or total, the applicant may seek independent review of the decision from the Information Commissioner. Also if a reply to the application for internal review is not received within 3 weeks, this is deemed to be a refusal and you may appeal the matter to the Commission.

Appeals in writing may be made directly to the Information Commissioner at the following address:

Office of the Information Commissioner,
18 Lower Leeson Street,
Dublin 2.
Tel. 01 - 6785 222
Fax. 01 - 6610 570
